Application Instructions

Please follow these guidelines when completing your application:

1. Do not type information in all caps or, or all lower case.
2. Do not use nonstandard abbreviations.
3. Complete both the "Current Address" and "Permanent Address" fields, even if they are the same. Also, enter the date until which the addresses will be valid. Because your electronic application is automatically downloaded into our database, these actions will ensure mail will be sent to the correct address.
4. Make sure you answer ALL Character & Fitness questions. Your application will not be reviewed without responses to these questions. If you affirmatively answered any of the Character & Fitness questions, you must attach an addendum for each affirmative answer.

Applicants for admission must have a bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year college or university. Applicants must also ensure a complete LSAC Credential Assembly Service (CAS) law school report is available, which includes copies of all transcripts and letters of recommendation. All letters of recommendation must go through the Credential Assembly Service.

While we consider applications received at any time, please be aware that to be assured on-time consideration for admission in the fall, we must receive all required admission credentials listed above. We are unable to consider your application until we have received a Credential Assembly Service Law School Report. We cannot be responsible for delays in the mail or by the Credential Assembly Service.

Important Deadlines:

• March 15- priority deadline for receipt of law school application for those applicants who wish to be considered for scholarship awards. Applications completed by March 15 will have the greatest priority. A completed law school application includes the Credential Assembly Service report provided by LSAC. Applications received after March 15 are considered, and admission will be based on the applicant's qualifications and the availability of space in the incoming class.
• May 15- priority deadline for receipt of FAFSA by federal processor

Location Preference

Pending American Bar Association and Idaho State Board of Education approval, the University of Idaho College of Law plans to add first-year classes to our Boise location in fall 2017. The change would enable a student to complete the entire Juris Doctor degree at either location. Each location has limitations on enrollment, with less capacity in Boise than Moscow.

There are several considerations that may go into a decision as to which location you apply for including geographic location, clinical opportunities, faculty, concurrent degree programs, and co-curricular offerings, among others. Visit our website for information to help you with your decision. Please note that many law courses are now available in real time through distance learning to and from each location.

Character and Fitness

The College of Law considers matters of character in determining an applicant's fitness for the study of law. Training in the law and our legal system imposes obligations on the student to maintain the highest values of integrity and moral character. These obligations are essential for all those who study the law, and particularly for those who might seek admission to the bar for the practice of law. In addition to a bar examination, there are character, fitness, and other qualifications for admission to the bar in every U.S. jurisdiction. Applicants are encouraged to determine the requirements for any jurisdiction in which they intend to seek admission by contacting the jurisdiction. Addresses for all relevant agencies are available through the National Conference of Bar Examiners.

It is essential that you answer each of the following questions completely, truthfully and without evasion of any kind, as failure to do so will be considered a deliberate misrepresentation and may result in revocation of admission, suspension, or dismissal from law school. It will also be reported to the appropriate bar authorities and may prevent you from sitting for the bar examination. When in doubt, err on the side of full disclosure.

Answers to the following questions will be treated by the College of Law as confidential and no disclosure will be made without your permission, except to the Admission Committee and appropriate law school personnel, as required by law, or as required by appropriate bar authorities in connection with your application for the admission to the bar.

If you answer "Yes" to any of the following questions, please attach a detailed explanation that includes the date, place, circumstances, disposition and sentence, if any, in an attached addendum.
